Sermon Reflection Questions

2 Samuel 5:1-5, 17-27; 2 Corinthians 12:2-10; Mark 6:1-13

- What baggage do you need to leave behind to go where Jesus sends you?
- What's the significance of saying the story of Jesus' rejection by his hometown just before he sent out the twelve disciples? Note that the death of John the Baptist came right after the sending of the twelve. How does that inform your reading of this Sunday's text?
- Is there a contemporary way to say, "Shake the dust off your feet?" What about the last part of that instruction, "as testimony against them?" How is shaking of the dust a testimony?
- Jesus gave his disciples "authority over unclean spirits." What does this mean? Do we have this authority? If so, what form does that authority take in our discipleship?
- How are the following Jesus' instructions? If we are being sent out, where and to whom are we going?
- Have you ever felt as if your ministry, your life of faith, has not made a difference or had an impact? How did you "shake off the dust" and keep at it?
